Diophantine aspects of dynamical systems

PATRICK INGRAM

We will survey some applications of Diophantine geometry and Diophantine approximation in the study of dynamical systems. In particular, we will talk about canonical heights, periodic points, and post-critically finite maps.