HuTK - Northern Cultures and Societies 2007-2009 (2007 - 2009)

Northern Cultures and Societies is a 33-ECTScredit interdisciplinary programme which examines the cultures and peoples of the world's northernmost areas. The programme takes an in-depth approach to the study of the Circumpolar prehistory, Finland's history and Minority groups, and the indigenous cultures and peoples (including the Saami) of the circumpolar region.

Subject areas include Archaeology, Anthropology, History, Literature and Minority Studies. The programme focuses on northernmost Scandinavia, but issues pertaining to the Kola peninsula, Siberia and northernmost America are also covered.

Courses are especially tailored for international students, but Finnish students are also encouraged to participate. This provides an excellent opportunity for intercultural interactions with people from different cultures and backgrounds. The programme runs every spring term and it consists of lectures, study trips and seminar papers.
